

Man in Chester Smashup Held In $500 Bail For Transporting Liquor

Although Freed of Blame in Saturday Accident, Nunzio Monico, Truckman, Must Answer to Federal Charge in Manhattan.

225 GALLONS ABOARD

Basis of Charge is That Liquor Was Untaxed; Monico Pleads Ignorance of Load.

Nunzio Monico, Youngville truck driver who last Saturday was arrested following a collision between his Chevrolet truck and a car of Constantin Toolin of New York near Chester which resulted in the death of Toolin, was held by U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly under $500 bail for appearance in Federal court in New York on a charge of possession and transportation of untaxed liquor. Monico had previously been freed of blame for the death of Toolin.

Saturday morning about 1:15 o'clock Monico was driving a Chevrolet truck southbound near Chester when a sedan operated by Toolin came northbound. Near Chester Toolin evidently became confused at the junction of an old section of Route 17 and a bypass built to eliminate a narrow bridge. Toolin evidently swerved into the old road and struck the Chevrolet truck of Monico which was on its right side of the road.

At Goshen Jail

At Goshen jail where Monico was taken after the accident he gave a statement to Coroner E. B. Garrison and on his story and the facts learned at the accident he was held blameless. The same statement of Monico indicated that he did not know what was in the 45 five-gallon cans which were on the truck he was operating at the time or what the numerous empty molasses barrels had been used for. The cans containing alcohol and the molasses barrels were scattered over the highway after the accident and Monico stated that this was the first information he had as to the contents of the cans which made up his load. However he was taken in custody by federal alcoholic tax unit men and later when he was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Connelly he was held for District Court and gave bail in the sum of $500.

Others Hurt

Three other persons in the Toolin car were injured in the accident. A search is being made for the source of the alcohol which was being transported.

The statement which Monico made to the coroner led many to believe he had been ignorant of the contents of the load which he was transporting. After the accident he made no attempt to flee and asked that State Troopers be called.

Pleads Ignorance of Load

Monico's statement to the officers was that while in search of work he had left his wife in Youngville and gone to the vicinity of Liberty and White Sulphur Springs where he met a man, Clarence Seger, of White Sulphur Springs, who offered him a job driving a truck. The truck was registered in the name of Clarence Seger of White Sulphur Springs, according to an investigation of the Troopers. Monico said he had been hired and was on his third trip when the accident happened Saturday. He had made two previous trips from Four Corners near Liberty to Rutherford, N. J. In each case he said the truck had been loaded when it was turned over to him, and at Rutherford he said he turned the truck over to other men who unloaded it. On the third trip he said the owner of the truck accompanied him to show him the way. While freed of blame for the accident which caused the death of Toolin and sent Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chelkin and Steve Padakob, all of New York, to the Goshen hospital where their condition was reported serious, Monico was held by Commissioner Connelly to answer to the possession and transportation charge.

"No Starvation" Policy

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt, after saying the federal government would allow no person to starve, placed next year's budget at the top of his work schedule today. Daniel Bell, director of the budget, and Representative Buchanan of Texas, chairman of the House appropriations committee, have been asked to meet the President at Warm Springs next Monday to go over departmental budget requests and perhaps give some thought to relief needs after next July 1.

To Get Democratic Aid

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—Senator Norris, Republican Independent, was assured today of national Democratic organization support if he runs for reelection next year in Nebraska. Chairman Gustaf (D., Pa.) said the Democratic national campaign committee, which directs the drive for election of Democratic senatorial candidates, would support Norris if he runs. President Roosevelt recently endorsed Norris strongly.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 20 (AP)—Dr. Josiah Bowman, president of Johns Hopkins University, says freedom of scientific inquiry is a sacred principle of government in giving "divine" to the education of youth.

Local WPA Administrator Gives Complete Setup Here

In the County Districts 18 Projects Out of a Total of 21 Approved Are Now In Operation—Seventeen Projects in City of Kingston Calls For Expenditure of $155,419—Kingston's Share is Estimated at $45,260 for the Entire Work.

In an endeavor to obtain the latest information relative to the progress in Ulster county on WPA projects, which employs only those registered on relief rolls, The Freeman in telephonic communication with Lester W. Herzog, New York State Works Progress Administrator, was referred to Arthur Hallinan, Ulster county WPA administrator, who submitted the complete setup of approved WPA projects for Ulster county as of Tuesday, November 19. Of the 38 WPA projects approved in Ulster county by the local WPA representative, 21 of these projects are in the county districts and the remaining 17 in the city of Kingston. Of the total 21 approved projects in the county districts, outside of the city, 18 are already in operation.

The chart showed the following situation in the City of Kingston. Four projects have been worked. Two ERB continuation projects have been completed. Six supplemental agreements have not been entered into by the city. Five projects to start. When the entire approved projects are in operation in this city it is estimated that over 1,000 will receive employment. There are about 100 men employed at the present time. All workers are taken from the relief rolls.

Below is listed the entire approved WPA setup for the city of Kingston up until Tuesday, showing a total estimated outlay of $155,419.01, of which the Federal Government gives $110,259 and the city of Kingston, $45,260.01.

In the following table listed the sponsor share means the money to be appropriated by the City of Kingston. Supplemental agreements for the specified amounts are filed by the City of Kingston with the local WPA official before the project is begun.

Board of Supervisors Votes Appropriations At Tuesday Meeting

A very brief meeting of the Board of Supervisors was held Tuesday with Deputy Clerk John Bott acting as clerk. In a 30-minute session several resolutions for town appropriations were read, a report from the Ulster County Accredited Herd Association was received and a request was made for an appropriation of $2,150, the same as last year. The request was referred to the committee on appropriations. Resolutions were called up from the previous session and without any comment the board voted unanimously to appropriate $15,000 more for the County Auditors' fund which is short over $10,000; an additional appropriation of $15,000 for Old Age Relief and $5,000 for the Child Welfare Fund. All of the above mentioned funds are now depleted and additional funds are necessary to carry on the work until the first of the year.

Cashdollar's Resolutions

Supervisor Cashdollar of Woodstock offered the following resolutions:

That there be raised on the town of Woodstock the sum of $100 to pay for maintaining the Woodstock Public Library; that the sum of $25 be raised on the town to pay for maintenance of Willow Rural Cemetery; that there be raised on the town the sum of $150 to be paid the American Legion Post of Woodstock for Memorial Day purposes; that there be raised on the town the sum of $300 to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest issued to pay for voting machines and due in 1936; that the sum of $2,333.33 be raised on the town to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest for payment of curbing and paving; that there be raised on the town the sum of $1,575 to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest issued for extraordinary highway repairs and due in 1936; that the sum of $6,151 to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest issued to pay extraordinary highway repairs and due in 1936; the sum of $6,000 to be credited to the WPA fund of the town; the sum of $1,440 to be credited to the public welfare fund of the town and to be expended for public welfare purposes. Over under the rate.

Shuler's Resolutions

Superior Shuler offered a resolution that there be raised on the town of Sanderson the sum of $1,221 to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest for TERA purposes. Over under the rate.

The Following Items of Lightening

Forest fires in the several towns of the county were reported and the amount to be paid by each town, being one-half of the cost, will be either raised by taxation or paid from funds on hand as directed by the supervisor of the town as indicated:

Town	Cost	Town's Share

Hauptmann to Know December 9 Whether Review Will Be Given

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann may know by December 9 whether the highest court in the land will interfere with his death sentence in the Lindbergh kidnap-murder tragedy.

New Jersey officials today officially acknowledged notice of Hauptmann's Supreme Court appeal docketed November 12. Their formal printed argument against a Supreme Court review must be filed by December 5.

But it was indicated this would be done much sooner. That would permit the nine justices of the Supreme Court to examine records of the New Jersey courts during a two weeks recess starting last Monday.

Court observers said that could bring an order either granting or denying the review on December 9, the first opinion and order the day after the recess.

If a review were granted it would normally be weeks or possibly months before the case was reached unless attorneys receive permission of the court to advance it.

"Jafse" Sees Confession Due

Boston, Nov. 20 (AP)—Dr. John F. Condon, "Jafse" of the Lindbergh kidnaping case, predicts Bruno Richard Hauptmann will confess the crime to him.

The former New York educator told the Professional Women's Club he was still working on the case, explaining there were still some things "we wish to clear."

Dr. Condon said he was convinced Hauptmann, convicted of the crime, was ready to make a full and complete confession.

"As a matter of fact," Dr. Condon said, "he has already sent for me three times, but as yet I have not gone to see him."

He said there was "reason" for his staying away, but did not enlarge upon the statement.

Hauptmann, meanwhile, is in New Jersey's death house, awaiting a verdict on an appeal.

Treasury Rejoins

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The position of the treasury on November 18 was: Receipts, $17,440,295.24; expenditures, $14,999,594.60. Balance $2,440,700.64. Customs receipts for the month $19,278,364.15. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1): $1,397,585,324.22. Expenditures, $2,980,567,943.94. Including $1,332,671,110.16 of emergency expenditures. Receipts of emergency expenditures, $1,382,602,544.55. Gross debt, $29,552,444,321.94, a decrease of $1,555,244.75 under the previous day. Gold assets, $9,247,434,195.44.

Popular Surroundings

Atlanta, Nov. 20 (AP)—Visiting police officers will be welcomed to familiar surroundings as guests of the city for a home-coming celebration in honor of President Roosevelt. November 23, C. C. Brooks, secretary of the Atlanta department, said today the 24th officers would be quartered on the 21st floor of the new city jail, arrived as yet, and fed from the prison kitchen.

Japan's Military Irked Over Meeting Between Kai-Shek and Ariyoshi

Impatience Said To Arise From Construction Put Upon Forthcoming Conference at Nanking as Diplomatic Gesture.

U. S. IS CONCERNED

Administration Officials Show Anxiety Over Japan's Action in North China.

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

Shanghai, Nov. 20.—The Japanese military became irked today, reliable reports said, over an impending meeting between Chiang Kai-Shek, military overlord of the central Chinese government, and Akira Ariyoshi, Japanese ambassador to China, on the north China autonomy movement.

The impatience, these reports said, arose from an interpretation of the forthcoming conference at Nanking as a Japanese diplomatic gesture of conciliation in the crisis.

Ariyoshi left here to consult with Chiang and other high central government officials just as Chinese reports from the north said that, despite a strongly worded Japanese military warning, north China leaders were lukewarm to the campaign for self-government.

A spokesman for the Japanese military, however, denied reports that Major General Kenji Dohara had issued an ultimatum to north China authorities, demanding a favorable response to demands for political independence by noon today, under pain of Japanese army occupation.

At the same time, the opinion was expressed both in Japanese and Chinese official quarters that delay of the inauguration of north China's autonomous government will make possible a reconciliation of the differences of Nanking government and north China leaders.

The scheduled conference of Chiang and Ariyoshi and the continued negotiations between Chiang and Gen. Sung Cheh-Yuan, commander of the Peiping-Tientsin garrison and dominant figure in the northern movement, led to the widespread belief a common basis of understanding was near.

Delay of the inauguration, it was also pointed out in these circles, also would remove the danger of an attack on Chiang's policies by militant elements in the Kuomintang (Nationalist Party) congress, which will end its sessions Friday or Saturday.

Military Campaign

According to the Japanese view, such an attack might force Chiang to launch a military campaign against the autonomists of Honan province, thus provoking an invasion of the Japanese army.

Any concession to Chiang, these circles said, mainly involve the degree of Nanking sovereignty over the autonomous area and other devices designed to save that government's face.

The military spokesmen said the only purpose of Japanese troop concentration along the Great Wall was to counteract massing of Nanking troops just south of the provinces involved in the autonomy campaign.

Nanking government officials, in turn, denied reports of Chinese troop concentrations in northern Honan province, ostensibly to combat the self-rule movement.

Although Nationalist government leaders ordered nationwide military conscription and Kuomintang (Nationalist party) chiefs were in session for their fifth congress at Nanking, there were scant indications of active resistance to the movement.

Virtual passive resistance by North China leaders delayed proclamation of self-government for the northern provinces, Chinese reports indicated, but observers believed the change still might be achieved without violence.

Chinese sources, meanwhile, insisted on the veracity of their reports that Major General Dohara, the Lawrence of Manchuria, had threatened Japanese occupation of North China if Chinese officials did not accept the autonomy movement.

RAIN DEATH ON ETHIOPIA

This picture shows a squadron of Italian bombing planes, one of them piloted by Mussolini's son-in-law, Capt. Galeazzo Ciano, over the north Ethiopian war zone. Il Duce Leads Italy in Launching Campaign to Defeat Sanctions

Kozlowski's Case Adjourned in Court

The court room at the city hall was crowded this morning by an interested group of spectators who had gathered to hear the evidence in the trial of Bernard Kozlowski, 35, of 169 Murray street, charged with assault in the third degree on complaint of an investigator of the ERB. The crowd was disappointed, however, for Attorney Chris J. Flanagan, who appeared for Kozlowski, after making the usual motion to dismiss which were denied by Judge Culliton, moved for an adjournment of at least five and not more than ten days to make application to a court of record for a certificate sending the matter to the grand jury. The motion was granted and the hearing was adjourned to November 20.

Kozlowski is accused of striking one of the investigators with his fist in the reception room of the ERB headquarters on Broadway. The ERB office was represented in court today by Attorney Louis Bruhn.

George Kramer of 41 Meadow street, arrested on a charge of parking his car in the fire zone on Fair street, had his hearing adjourned to Saturday.

John Kerry, 32, of New York city, arrested for panhandling on Broadway, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail.

Carburator Addie Cabash, a negro who claims Alvin Karpis as his home country, has recently completed serving a jail sentence for public intoxication, and last night he was picked up on a similar charge. Judge Culliton said he would suspend the sentence of six months in the county jail of Cabash, promised to leave town within the hour.

"You, sir," replied Cabash as he left the court room hurriedly.

"Department of Peace"

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—Establishment of a federal department of peace is advocated by Dr. James Lawrence Moxley, president of Russell Sage College. The department, he said in a discussion on preparedness yesterday with Col. Gilbert H. Stewart, commander of the 1st Army at Watertown, would study, plan and organize peace methods and work them out with other nations.

The federal peace department, Dr. Moxley said, could be financed with funds saved through reductions in the standing army.

It is still a world of opportunity for youth. Take the case of Donald Cooper of Oakland, California. Instead of sitting idle at home, watching the rain patter on the windows, this 15-year-old boy made a few extra dollars ferrying pedestrians across a flooded intersection on the handlebars of his bike.

Police Guard Jerry Brown

Los Angeles, Nov. 20 (AP)—Police guard was thrown out last night of Jerry Brown, mayor-elect, after a day after discharge of an armed bandit just across the border. Brown, 35, was guarded by a detachment of his housekeeper and two notified in a telephone call that two men planned to shoot him. The call, Jerry said, came from a woman in whom he trusted.

Police officers reported that the two men were armed with pistols and had been reported in that locality lately.

By GEORGE JORDAN

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

Rome, Nov. 20.—Premier Mussolini personally led Fascist Italy today in the launching of a vast, intensive campaign of increased national production to defeat League of Nations sanctions.

He summoned the heads of the kingdom's fruit and vegetable growers syndicate to his office in the historic Palazzo Di Venezia to discuss the program for heightened home production as it applied to their vital fields.

At the little town of Raccinoli, in northern Italy, the hereditary Prince of Piemonte attended a ceremony of ground clearance before his castle to make way for exemplary raising of wheat, corn and similar products now imported.

Such domestic production became necessary, Italians maintained, to break the League's economic blockade, putting a boycott on Italian goods and denying to Italy a selected list of raw materials because of the warfare against Ethiopia.

War-Time Ferocity

Commoners and royalty alike united in a war-time fervor of resistance to the economic blockade.

At Turin, close by the royal economy at Raccinoli, a popular collection brought into the Fascist strongboxes 100 pounds of gold, 500 pounds of silver, and seven grams of platinum. Other gifts were 55 pounds of aluminum, 65,000 pounds of copper, brass and bronze, and 425,000 pounds of iron.

To stimulate the campaign for home production, the Home secretariat of the architects syndicate instructed the nation's builders to utilize national materials to the utmost.

All paper and cellulose firms were united in one great association to coordinate and accelerate their production of paper.

At Trillico, in Libya, governors of the country fair association reported they had ordered a stone placed at the market entrance, carved with records of the "shame" of November 14, 1935, when economic sanctions were applied.

Punishing Nations

Italy's cooperative state system has been functioning to punish nations applying League measures.

A boycott on goods coming from sanctioned countries was urged by 120,000 workers of 95 provincial syndicates. Similar meetings were being held throughout the kingdom.

New decrees were issued as rapidly as each branch of business presented its plan for resistance.

The oil industry, already restricted heavily, was notified that its reserves must be maintained at 70 per cent of storage capacity to meet emergency needs.

The gold monopoly established yesterday, it was noted the way in which the government would be preventing public sale of private holdings.

Mayor Heiselman Gives Figures at Banquet of Trades, Labor Council

Urges Concentrated Efforts of All Toward Stimulating Industry by Bringing Factories Here That Will Pay Fair Wages.

LABOR PROBLEMS

Labor Conditions Topic Brings Out Opposite Views From Business Men and Textile Workers.

"In the last five years Kingston has lost about two millions of dollars in payrolls. We must have work." These were the words of Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman Tuesday night when he addressed the group of tradesmen, business men, mechanics, laborers and professional men in the dining room of the West Shore Hotel at the get-together banquet sponsored by the Central Trades and Labor Council.

Urging the concentrated efforts of all toward stimulating industry by bringing factories to Kingston that pay fair wages for the happiness and prosperity of the citizenry, the chief executive painted a graphic picture of the distress Kingston really faces and the mounting costs of government that may run the city into a debt of almost $2,000,000 by December 31, 1935.

Following the mayor were other speakers, all of whom agreed that organized labor has done much for the workman as well as employers, but some of whom cautioned that a more stringent check should be made on factories before they are taken in to Kingston.

Among the speakers besides the mayor were State Senator Arthur H. Wick, Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwick, E. Frank Flanagan, John J. Flynn, vice president of the Metal Polishers International; Louis Nelson, business manager of the Knitting Goods Manufacturing Labor organization; Joseph H. White, fifth vice president of the United Textile Workers of America; Joseph Netherwood, secretary of the local Labor Council; Max L. Reben and John Cole, president of the local council, and one of the heads of the Musicians Union. Mr. Cole was toastmaster.

Friend of Labor

In introducing Mayor Heiselman, toastmaster John Cole presented him as a friend of labor. "The purpose of this meeting is to get together and acquaint ourselves with each other's problems and as it will take on a labor complexion I hope we'll all understand each other," said Mr. Cole. Then he turned the floor over to the mayor.

"I'm glad for the invitation to attend this dinner to discuss something of vital interest to Kingstonians and to talk about the problems of government. I seek your advice and want the cooperation of all."

"In the last five years, Kingston has lost about two million of dollars in payrolls. Factories have closed or moved from the city. Some of them have been replaced but not substantially. With this condition it is impossible for happiness or prosperity. We must have work."

"Of course, this problem of unemployment is nationwide, but my responsibility is to Kingston. We can't go on for ever with relief, which gives only the barest necessities of life. Something must be done. We need industries."

"The state TERA has informed us that work projects will end on November 20 and that commencing December 1 the state will reimburse us only 40 per cent on home relief expenditures."

"This means that home relief instead of costing this city 25 cents on every dollar expended will, commencing December 1, cost us 60 cents on every dollar spent, or an increase in the city's cost of 34 per cent. Based on an average case load of 1,200 this would mean a cost to the city of $300,000 per year. The cost of home and work relief during the current year will amount to about $241,000."

"Remembering the WPA, if this program is not in full operation before December 1, men employed on TERA projects will have to be put on the dole and many others who are working, willing and anxious to work, will be deprived of the benefits of employment which the president promised when he said it was through with relief and was 100 per cent that funds were appropriated for it. I estimate to give all relief after on relief a job based on the July 1, 1935, $4,400,000.00 was appropriated. A concern for the people. We are now waiting for the program to be in full operation in Kingston."

"At a convention in this federal government, a case was made in the city was made. Ulster county's unemployment is $744 per man a week. It is noted that the federal government has called the sum of $7,000,000.00 for the unemployed. Not to 1,000 men in the city and
